Daitch and Frey go to Washington, DC

In late June 2010, Jonathan S. Daitch, MD and Michael E. Frey attended the annual meeting of American Society of Interventional Pain Physician (ASIPP) in Washington, DC. Both physicians presented some of their research findings. After the conference concluded, Dr. Daitch went to Capitol Hill to meet with members of Congress and their Staff to communicate physicians' concerns about health care changes and the impact on proposed legislation that will affect legitimate interventional pain physicians
